You can make a request in respect of your data protection rights through any of our usual contact channels.

You have the right to request a copy of any information which we hold about you. This is called a subject access request.

If you wish to receive a copy of your data to assist with your transfer to another service provider, please specify this. We will consider the reasonableness of each request and respond accordingly.

Website Privacy Policy

You have the right to have your data rectified in the event it is incorrect or incomplete. Please do contact us in the event of any of your information being inaccurate, as we are committed to maintaining the high quality of our data.

You have a limited right to ask us to restrict processing of your personal data in certain circumstances. We will consider the reasonableness of each request along with your employer where applicable and will respond accordingly. Your access to Wider Wellbeing will be suspended in the event of us agreeing to such a request.

You have the right to request erasure of your personal data. This is also known as the 'right to be forgotten'. We will anonymise or delete your data in response to this request unless there is an overriding reason for not doing so.

Copies of your data may also be retained to satisfy legal, regulatory and accounting requirements.

We routinely take backups of data for business continuity purposes. The backups would only be accessed for routine tests or in the event of a failure of our live database. In the event of using this data any previous requests for anonymisation or deletion will be upheld. We will retain a record of requests in order to facilitate this.

You have the right to object to the way in which we are processing your personal data. If you wish to object, you must specify which processing you object to, including a reason for your objection.

9. Cookies

Our website uses cookies to store information about your site usage. A cookie is a small text file that is sent to your browser from a web server and then stored on your hard drive. Cookies enable us to recognise your computer and record information from your visits to the site, such as your preferred settings. This saves you having to re-enter the same data each time you use the site and allows us to provide you with a more customised experience.

We may also use cookies and analytical software to collect anonymous data for internal research purposes and to compile statistical reports on website activity.

Most internet browsers accept cookies by default; however, you can usually change your browser settings to reject cookies. If you choose not to receive our cookies you will not be able to receive any personalised features and you may not be able to benefit from all our services.

10. Using other websites

This Privacy Policy only applies to the websites provided by Wider Plan on which it is published.

Our website contains links to websites which are owned or controlled by parties other than Wider Plan. These links are provided for your convenience and do not imply that we have reviewed or approved the third-party sites or their policies.

When you access the linked third party websites, you do so at your own risk. You should check that you agree with each website's Privacy Policy and Terms and Conditions before giving them any of your personal details. We will not be held liable for any misuse of your information or other misconduct by the third party, or any other loss arising from your use of a third party website.

11. Our commitment to data security

We take data protection seriously and we have implemented technical, physical and administrative security measures to protect your information against unauthorised access, loss, misuse or destruction.

If you use a shared computer to access Wider Wellbeing, we recommend that you always sign out when you have finished.

While we work very hard to protect your privacy, online data transmission can never be entirely secure. Therefore, we cannot guarantee that your personal information will always remain private.

If we become aware that there has been a security breach and that your personal data may have been compromised, we will take appropriate steps to rectify the breach and we will contact you as soon as reasonably practicable.

12. Data retention policy

We will only keep your personal information while you remain a member of Wider Wellbeing and for up to a further six months to enable us to provide you with support or resolve any outstanding queries. Copies of your data may also be retained to satisfy legal, regulatory and accounting purposes.

13. Location of data processing

Wider Wellbeing databases are held at data centres within the UK or EEA.

Your employer will also store and process data in respect of your membership of their Wider Wellbeing scheme. In some cases, this may lead to your data being transferred or processed outside the UK or EEA. You are advised to request details of the location of data processing from your employer if desired.

Routine cloud-based business services, for example communication by email, may involve Wider Wellbeing data being saved on or passing through servers outside the UK or EEA. We will only use third parties which have contractually committed to adhere to the data location safeguards required under GDPR.

14. Changes to this Privacy Policy

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time so please revisit this page at your convenience to ensure that you are aware of any updates. We will notify you of any significant change by email in the event that you are known by us to be an active user of Wider Wellbeing at the time of the amendment. Your continued use of the service will constitute your acceptance of any changes.
